

General Terms of Sale and Delivery (AGB)

Sec. 1 General – Scope of Validity

- (1) The present General Terms of Sale (“AGB“) govern the sale of goods, in particular of filter elements, pressure vessels and accessories, sensors and sensor components by FAUDI Aviation GmbH (“FAUDI Aviation“).
- (2) The present Terms of Sales apply at the exclusion of any other. Possibly contradictory terms or terms of sale of the Customer deviating from the present Terms become part of the contract only if their contents are in agreement with the present Terms or when explicitly acknowledged by FAUDI Aviation in writing. This also applies when services are provided by FAUDI Aviation without reservation in the knowledge of contradictory or deviating terms of the Customer.
- (3) As per Sec. 1 of the present terms of business, in a permanent commercial relationship between FAUDI Aviation and the Customer, the present Terms also apply to all future contracts on corresponding deliveries and services.

Sec. 2 Offer – Contract Conclusion

- (1) Offers of FAUDI Aviation are non-binding and without obligation. A contract between the Customer and FAUDI Aviation is created by an order of the Customer and its subsequent acceptance by FAUDI Aviation. The order of the Customer represents a legally binding offer. FAUDI Aviation will declare the acceptance of an order within 14 days from its receipt, either in writing or by making delivery to the Customer.
- (2) Contract conclusion is subject to the proviso of the correct and timely delivery to FAUDI Aviation itself.

Sec. 3 Prices and Payment Terms

- (1) Unless agreed otherwise, all prices are quoted in EURO plus currently applicable VAT in the statutory amount and apply “ex works” (EXW in the sense of the 2010 Incoterms), i.e. also exclusive of packaging materials, delivery and insurance. “Ex works“ refers to the location of FAUDI Aviation at Scharnhorststraße 7B in 35260 Stadtallendorf. All taxes, customs duties and public charges, e.g. for export, transit, import and other permits, are likewise for account of the Customer.
- (2) Unless agreed otherwise, deliveries are made on presentation of invoice.
- (3) Invoices are due as of the date of invoice and must be paid (without deduction) within 30 days from date of invoice.

General Terms of Sale and Delivery (AGB)

- (4) Default is governed by the applicable legal provisions.

Sec. 4 Delivery and Services

- (1) If not agreed otherwise, when designated by a delivery date and not a final date, delivery periods start to run as of the date of contract conclusion. They are considered met if the goods have left the premises of FAUDI Aviation on their maturity or when FAUDI Aviation has notified shipping readiness. The delivery period is subject to the proviso of correct and timely delivery to FAUDI Aviation itself.
- (2) If not agreed otherwise, FAUDI Aviation shall select the type of packaging and, when delivery was agreed in departure from the present Terms, select the delivery method at its reasonable discretion.
- (3) When freight-paid delivery was agreed, the risk passes to the Customer with the handover of the goods to the forwarder. With shipping delays are attributable to the Customer, the risk passes to the Customer already at the time of picking the goods for shipment and the notification of shipping readiness.
- (4) If delivery is delayed for reasons attributable solely or largely to the Customer or when neither the Customer nor FAUDI Aviation is at fault, the delivery period shall be extended for a period of time corresponding to the circumstances plus an adequate lead time. The Customer shall be notified accordingly.
- (5) FAUDI Aviation is entitled to make partial delivery to a reasonable extent.
- (6) The Customer is entitled to return packaging materials to FAUDI Aviation at the point of handover of the goods. The right to return exists when the packaging materials are handed over promptly on handover of the goods or for pickup at a subsequent delivery. A separate charge is levied for the transport of packaging materials. The Customer may also return the packaging materials to the warehouse of FAUDI Aviation at customary business hours for his own account. Returned packaging materials must be clean, free from foreign matter and broken down by different material. Otherwise, FAUDI Aviation is entitled to charge the costs for their disposal.

Sec. 5 Obligations of Customer – Customer's Cooperation

- (1) The Customer is obligated to adequately cooperate over the supply of the services.

General Terms of Sale and Delivery (AGB)

- (2) The Customer must submit to FAUDI Aviation in good time all records, documents and information (hereafter "documents") required for contract performance in full, unrequestedly and free of charge. FAUDI Aviation is not required to verify the accuracy and completeness of the documents submitted by the Customer.
- (3) Documents must be supplied in a commonly used format.
- (4) The Customer shall supply his cooperation services free of charge.
- (5) If the Customer fails to supply his cooperation services or fails to do so at contractually agreed dates, the contractually agreed dates for the supply of services by FAUDI Aviation shall be duly extended. The respective extension is a function of the duration of the non-contractual lack of cooperation by the Customer plus an adequate lead time. For cooperation services of the Customer without which the supply of services by FAUDI Aviation is impossible or rendered substantially more difficult, FAUDI Aviation is entitled to set an adequate period for supplementary performance by the Customer. If this period expires fruitlessly, FAUDI Aviation is entitled to rescind the contract.

Sec. 6 Warranty

- (1) The statutory provisions shall apply to the rights of the Customer in the event of material defects and defects of title (including incorrect and short delivery, as well as improper assembly or incorrect assembly instructions), unless otherwise specified below. In all cases, the special statutory provisions shall remain unaffected in the case of the final delivery of the unprocessed goods to a consumer, even if the consumer has processed them further (supplier recourse according to Sections 478 of the BGB (German Civil Code)). Claims from supplier recourse shall be excluded if the defective goods have been further processed by the Customer or another commercial enterprise, e.g. by incorporation into another product.
- (2) The basis of our liability for defects is above all the agreement reached on the properties of the goods. All product descriptions and manufacturer's specifications which are the subject of the individual contract or which were made publicly known by us (in particular in catalogues or on our Internet homepage) at the time of the conclusion of the contract shall be deemed to be an agreement on the properties of the goods.
- (3) Insofar as the properties have not been agreed, an assessment shall be carried out on the basis of the statutory regulations to determine whether a defect is present or not (Section 434, para. 1, sentences 2 and 3 of the BGB). However, we shall assume no liability for public statements made by the manufacturer or other third parties (e.g. advertising statements) to which the Customer has not referred to us as being decisive for its purchase.

General Terms of Sale and Delivery (AGB)

- (4) We shall not be liable as a matter of principle for defects which the Customer is aware of at the time of the conclusion of the contract or is unaware of as a result of gross negligence (Section 442 BGB). Furthermore, the Customer's warranty claims require that the Customer has complied with its statutory duty of inspection and notification of defects (Sections 377, 381 of the German Commercial Code (HGB)). In the case of building materials and other goods that are intended for installation or other further processing, an inspection must be carried out at all events immediately before such processing. If a defect is discovered during delivery, the inspection or at any later time, we are to be notified of this immediately in writing. In all cases, obvious defects are to be reported in writing within five (5) working days of delivery. The above deadline shall also apply from the time of the discovery of any defects which are not identifiable during the inspection. If the Customer fails to carry out the proper inspection and/or fails to submit the notification of defects, our liability for the defect which has not been notified or not notified in time or not in the correct manner shall be excluded in accordance with the statutory provisions.
- (5) If the delivered item is defective, we may initially choose whether to provide subsequent performance by remedying the defect (rectification of defects) or by delivering a defect-free item (replacement delivery). Our right to refuse subsequent performance under the statutory conditions remains unaffected.
- (6) We are entitled to make the subsequent performance that is owed dependent on the Customer paying the due purchase price. However, the Customer is entitled to retain a part of the purchase price which is appropriate in relation to the extent of the defect.
- (7) The Customer shall give us the time and opportunity required for the subsequent performance owed, in particular – at our discretion – to hand over the rejected goods or make them accessible to us for the purpose of inspections. The Customer must provide proof that it handled the item with due care and attention and, if the item has been installed or fitted into other items, that it has installed or fitted it in a professional and correct manner. In the case of a replacement delivery, the Customer shall return the defective item to us in accordance with the statutory provisions.
- (8) The subsequent performance shall not include the removal of the defective item or its re-installation if we were not originally obliged to install it or had not undertaken to do so. The costs and expenses for the removal of the defective item and the installation of the subsequently delivered item shall be borne by the Customer. Insofar as we – for whatever reason – are obliged to bear the costs and expenses for the removal of the defective item and/or the installation of the subsequently delivered item, we shall bear these at most up to the amount of the agreed net purchase price of the purchased item.

General Terms of Sale and Delivery (AGB)

- (9) Moreover, in the event that the regulations or part of the regulations of this provision – in particular the above paragraphs – are invalid or partially invalid, the Customer shall give us the time and opportunity required for the subsequent performance owed, in particular – at our discretion – to hand over the rejected goods or make them accessible to us for the purpose of inspections without delay. In the case of a replacement delivery, the Customer shall return the defective item to us in accordance with the statutory provisions. Any obligation on our part with respect to subsequent performance shall only include the removal of the defective item or the installation of the subsequently delivered item if we were originally obliged to install it. We shall only assume the costs and expenses incurred for the removal of the defective item or the installation of the subsequently delivered item if we are responsible for the defect.
- (10) We shall bear or reimburse the expenses required for the purposes of inspection and subsequent performance, in particular transport, travel, labour and material costs, as well as removal and installation costs, if any, in accordance with the statutory provisions if a defect actually exists. Otherwise we may demand compensation from the Customer for the costs arising from the unjustified demand for the repair of defects (in particular testing and transport costs), unless the absence of defects was not apparent to the Customer.
- (11) In urgent cases, e.g. if operational safety is endangered or in order to prevent a disproportionate amount of damage, the Customer shall have the right to remedy the defect itself and to demand compensation from us for the expenses which are objectively required for this. We are to be informed immediately, if possible in advance, of any such self-remedy of defects. The right of self-remedy shall not apply if we would be entitled to refuse any corresponding subsequent performance in accordance with the statutory provisions.
- (12) If the supplementary performance has failed or a reasonable deadline to be set by the Customer for the supplementary performance has expired unsuccessfully or is not required according to the statutory provisions, the Customer may withdraw from the purchase contract or reduce the purchase price. In the case of an insignificant defect, however, there shall be no right of withdrawal.
- (13) Even in the case of defects, the Customer's claims for damages or compensation for futile expenditure shall only apply in accordance with Article 8 and shall otherwise be excluded.
- (14) The Customer's rights and claims for defects relating to the purchase of used goods are hereby excluded.

General Terms of Sale and Delivery (AGB)

Sec. 7 Liability

- (1) FAUDI Aviation is liable for compensation as per the statutory provisions for injury to life and limb and for damage under the Product Liability Act.
- (2) For other damage, FAUDI Aviation is liable except if resulting from a warranty assumed by FAUDI Aviation, in line with the following provisions.
- (3) Under the statutory provisions, FAUDI Aviation is liable for damage caused by malicious conduct as well as for damage from premeditation or gross negligence on part of FAUDI Aviation, its legal representatives or executives.
- (4) The liability of FAUDI Aviation for damage is limited to the contract-typical amount of foreseeable damage, as follows:
 - for damage due to slight negligence of cardinal contract obligations or of duties the fulfilment of which makes the orderly performance of the contract possible in the first place and which the contract partner can routinely expect to be met (cardinal contract obligations)
 - as well as for damage caused by premeditation or gross negligence by ordinary vicarious agents of FAUDI Aviation.
- (5) In all other respects, any liability of FAUDI Aviation for damage caused by slight negligence is excluded.
- (6) Irrespective of the foregoing, contributory negligence of the Customer – in particular the inadequate supply of cooperation or a breach of other contract obligations – reduces the amount of possible compensation claims.
- (7) The Customer must notify FAUDI Aviation promptly in writing of any damage in the sense of the above liability provisions or have them recorded by FAUDI Aviation to ensure that FAUDI Aviation is informed as early as possible and able to limit any damage, possibly in conjunction with the Customer.
- (8) Exclusions and limitations of liability also apply to the personal liability of the management of FAUDI Aviation, its legal representatives, employees and vicarious agents.

Sec. 8 Time-Barred Limitations

- (1) In departure from Sec. 438 Subsec. 1 No. 3 BGB, the general time-barred limit for claims arising out of title and quality defects is one year from date of delivery. Any liability for premeditation is subject to the statutory period.

General Terms of Sale and Delivery (AGB)

When acceptance was agreed, time-barred limitation starts on the date of acceptance.

- (2) If, however, the product involves an object customarily used in construction and which is the origin of a defect (construction material), according to the legal provisions, the time-barred limitation is 5 years from delivery (Sec. 438 Subsec. 1 No. 2 BGB). The separate statutory provisions on time-barred limit for physical surrender claims of third parties (Sec. 438 Subsec. 1 No.1 BGB), malicious conduct on part of FAUDI Aviation (Sec. 438 Subsec. 3 BGB) and for claims involving legal recourse of suppliers on delivery to the final consumer (Sec. 479 BGB) also remain unaffected.
- (3) The above limitation periods of the right of purchase also apply to non-contractual compensation claims of the Customer residing in a quality defect except when in a given case the application of the regular statutory limitation period would result in a shorter limitation period (Secs. 195, 199 BGB). Compensation claims of the Customer
 - a) for premeditation and gross negligence of FAUDI Aviation – irrespective of their legal reason -
 - b) for simple negligence for damage resulting from injury to life, limb or health as well as
 - c) under the Product Liability Act lapse on expiry of the statutory limitation periods.

Sec. 9 Reservation of Title

- (1) Up to the fulfilment of all claims (including all payment demands on current account basis), FAUDI Aviation retains ownership of the goods resulting from contracts concluded simultaneously or subsequently with the Customer during their ongoing business relationship, FAUDI Aviation assigns the ownership of reserved goods and associated claims to the Customer whenever the attainable proceeds of the claim exceeds its amount by 10% whereby FAUDI Aviation is entitled to select the reserved goods to be released at its discretion.
- (2) If the Customer is in breach of contract – in particular if the compensation is not paid by the Customer in full – FAUDI Aviation is entitled, after the fruitless expiry of an adequate grace period granted – to rescind the contract and to demand the surrender of the reserved goods. An attachment by FAUDI Aviation of reserved goods likewise represents a contract rescission.
- (3) The Customer must treat reserved goods with due care. He must furthermore adequately insure them for his own account at their procurement value against damage from fire, water and theft. When maintenance and inspection works are required, the Customer must perform or have them performed in good time and for his own account.

- (4) When a third party accesses the reserved goods, the Customer must point out the ownership of FAUDI Aviation and inform FAUDI Aviation thereof promptly. The Customer shall bear all costs required to suspend access and to procure the reserved goods if these cannot be recovered from a third party (intervention costs). The Customer may not pledge reserved goods or use them as collateral.
- (5) The Customer is entitled to sell, process, irretrievably blend or amalgamate the goods with other goods in the ordinary course of business. FAUDI Aviation may revoke this authorization only if the Customer is in default of payment or when FAUDI Aviation has rescinded the contract.
- (6) The Customer assigns to FAUDI Aviation already at this time all ancillary rights from a resale held by him against the buyer. When reserved goods are resold together with other goods not subject to reservation of title by FAUDI Aviation, the claim of the Customer against his buyer is considered assigned to FAUDI Aviation in the amount of the price agreed between the Customer and FAUDI Aviation. The same shall apply to all claims taking the place of the reserved goods or otherwise associated with them as e.g. insurance claims or claims due to unauthorized acts in the event of loss or destruction.

If a Customer's claim from the resale of reserved goods is added to the current account arrangement with his buyer, the confirmed net balance shall be assigned to FAUDI Aviation in the corresponding amount already at this time except when the confirmed balance is again re-posted to their current account. The Customer assigns to FAUDI Aviation already at this time the final balance between him and his buyer (the so-called "causal balance") on termination of their current account arrangement. FAUDI Aviation accepts this assignment.

- (7) FAUDI Aviation revocably authorizes the Customer to collect claims in his own name and account also after an assignment. FAUDI Aviation may revoke this authority only if the Customer is in default of payment, an application for the opening of insolvency proceedings has been filed, other reasons to question the contract performance of the Customer exist or if FAUDI Aviation has rescinded the contract. The authority of FAUDI Aviation to collect claimed payments directly remains unaffected. FAUDI Aviation undertakes, however, not to do so as long as the Customer is not in default of payment, no application for the opening of insolvency proceedings has been filed, no other reasons exist to question the contract performance of the Customer and provided FAUDI Aviation has not rescinded the contract.

General Terms of Sale and Delivery (AGB)

FAUDI Aviation may demand from the Customer that the assigned claims and the debtor be announced, all information required for collection be supplied, the pertaining documents be handed over and that debtors be informed of the assignment.

The Customer may not assign such claims in order to collect them by way of factoring except if the factor is irrevocably obligated to provide the counterperformance directly to FAUDI Aviation as long as the latter has pending claims against the Customer.

- (8) The processing of the reserved goods by the Customer is at all times performed on behalf of FAUDI Aviation. If the reserved goods are processed together with other goods not owned by FAUDI Aviation, FAUDI Aviation thereby acquires co-ownership in the new goods in the ratio of the value of the reserved goods (final invoice amount including VAT) to [the value of] the other processed goods at the time of processing. In all other respects, new goods resulting from the processing shall be treated equal to reserved goods.

When reserved goods are irretrievably blended or amalgamated with other goods not owned by FAUDI Aviation, FAUDI Aviation acquires co-ownership of the new product in a ratio of the value of the reserved goods (final invoice amount including VAT) to [the value of] the other amalgamated or blended goods at the time of their amalgamation or blending. If reserved goods are amalgamated or blended in such a way that the product of the Customer may be considered the main component, the Customer and FAUDI Aviation agree already at this time that the prorated share in the co-owned goods is assigned by the Customer to FAUDI Aviation. Sole or shared ownership of a product shall be duly safeguarded by the Customer on behalf of FAUDI Aviation.

- (9) The Customer is obligated to treat reserved goods with due care.

Sec. 10 Offsetting – Retention – Assignment

- (1) FAUDI Aviation is entitled to the rights of offset and retention to the extent permitted by law.
- (2) The Customer may offset claims of his own or assert a right of retention only when his demands were determined with legal finality in a court of law, are undisputed or acknowledged. The Customer is also entitled to offset claims of his own or to assert a right of retention if the Customer claims a quality defect or raises a counterclaim under the same contractual relationship.
- (3) The assignment of claims against FAUDI Aviation is excluded. Sec. 354a HGB shall remain unaffected.

General Terms of Sale and Delivery (AGB)

Sec. 11 Places of Jurisdiction and Performance – Legal Forum – General

- (1) The place of jurisdiction for all disputes, claims and obligations arising out of and in connection with contracts concluded on the basis of these Terms is Marburg, Germany. FAUDI Aviation is, however, entitled to institute legal proceedings against the Customer also at the seat of the latter.
- (2) The present Terms and all agreements concluded on their basis are subject to the laws of the Federal Republic of Germany at the exclusion of the provisions of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods of 11 April 1980 (Vienna CISG Treaty).
- (3) Unless agreed otherwise, the place of performance is Stadtallendorf, Germany.
- (4) All agreements entered into between FAUDI Aviation and the Customer and bearing on the performance of this Agreement are given in writing herein.
- (5) Notes on the applicability of legal provisions are only explanatory in nature. The relevant legal provisions apply also in the absence of any explanation unless directly modified or explicitly excluded by the present Terms.
- (6) Should individual provisions of the present Terms be ineffective or infeasible or become so after contract conclusion, the validity of the remainder of the Agreement shall not be affected. An ineffective or infeasible provision shall be replaced with an effective and feasible one which in terms of its economic effect comes closest to what the Parties had intended with the ineffective or infeasible provision. This stipulation shall also apply in the event of an omission in the contract body.
